

I purchased 4 credits for 2012. GREAT

I have not received any receipts or certificates for my purchases. JUST LOGIN TO OUR MEMBER AREA AT rapower3.com. YOU WILL NEED YOUR USER/SPONSOR NAME AND PASSWORD. ONCE YOU ARE THERE, YOU CAN ACCESS ALL KINDS OF INFO INCLUDING RECEIPTS AND INVOICES. ONE TRICK YOU WILL NEED TO KNOW: ON THE LEFT HAND SIDE CLICK "VIEW PURCHASES." THEN CLICK THE LITTLE BOX WITH AN x IN IT.

Do I need these to give to my CPA before he can do my taxes? YOU CAN IF HE REQUESTS IT.

If so, how can I get the proper documentation needed? SOON YOU WILL BE E-MAILED A PACKET OF INFO. THAT'S WHAT YOU WILL WANT TO GIVE TO YOUR CPA

Thanks, G.L.

Hi guys,

Attached you will find the new "generic" tax opinion letter from Kirton McConkie. They did put their firm letterhead on the document. I think it is quite good.

I am following up on our brief conversation the other day about the Utah company that is looking to sell solar lenses to someone looking to take tax credits and accelerated depreciation. Here is the legal memo that Kirton prepared for the deal. They also sent me some of the purchase and operating agreements that were used in previous deals. If you know anyone that might be interested in looking at something like this, please let me know. We could get paid some commission (assuming we think Ballard is OK with that). I have been told that about $180 M have been sold to date. That would be pretty awesome commission . . .

THE FOLLOWING WAS A RECENT EMAIL FROM RAPOWER3 TEAM MEMBER K.K.

Greg,

I am curious as to why the 10% initial payment program is being cancelled. Most people, myself included, would not be able to do the entire amount up front. I am concerned that we are pushing the smaller investor away. If I have to come up with the full 1050 for each unit, it will severely limit the number of units I can purchase in the future. Can you shed some light on this for me?

Thanks,

HERE'S MY ANSWER USING J.T.'s PLAN OF ACTION:

J.T. needs nine lenses (Systems) for his 2013 taxes. He's told his employer to add a few allowances in order to get him $800 more a month in spendable income. Now, he will use one of two options: First Option: purchase one system in January and pay $800; purchase one system in February and pay $800; purchase another system in March and again pay $800; then in April purchase zero systems but pay $750. That means after four months J.T. will own another three systems and will have paid his full down payment of $3,150. Then, he will repeat this process every four months so at the end of the year, J.T. will have all nine systems fully paid for = $9,450.

Second Option: Simply put the $800 in a savings account each month and then every four months purchase and fully pay for three systems.
