Greg, thanks for the updates. The progress is very exciting. Do you still think they will begin construction this month? Thanks.

TO ALL: Again, new audits have slowed down to a trickle. However, appeal agents are continuing to be abusive. Last week one of them called us a "dog and pony" show. Although, he did offer to drop all penalties and interest, if the RaPower3 Team Member would just pay. He declined.

Our attorney, Paul Jones, continues to file petitions to the court. He is working on about 30 cases at present. He has all of you at that stage on a spread sheet. He will not let anyone miss a deadline. Paul normally waits until the last week or two to file a petition.

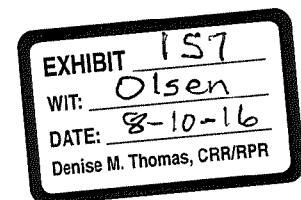

Meanwhile, things are looking great at the project site. We now own vast amounts of prime solar land. Ten towers are efficiently following the sun and producing electricity for demonstration purposes. Interest is growing with wealthy entities. Private tours are on the rise.

The IRS position, as predicted, is getting weaker and weaker and we are getting stronger and stronger.

Thanks for hanging in there,

Greg
